Subject: "International Technical Assurance INTECA ("Bringing Quality and People Together") – Surveyors' Network Training Sessions"

Summary: The current Service Promotion Circular reports upon the company's Surveyors' Network and respective structured further training activities.

1. In our most recent Service Promotion Circular we have announced the official commencement of business proceedings, as independent and reliable experts for the provision of quality related inspections, audits and verifications both for services and product supply chains. INTECA focuses on quality compliance and as a Hellenic private entity based in Piraeus, works with the objective of supporting businesses capture normative quality compliance within the non-marine and marine sectors.
2. Considering that INTECA's main corporate activity includes among others audits, tests and verifications against a broad context of standards within the non-marine and marine sectors, both for the private and public institutions, INTECA's management places particular emphasis to its Surveyors' Network, consisting out of experienced auditors with high valued technical, professional and academic background. INTECA's aim to strengthen the operational capabilities of our Surveyors' Network promoted a series of structured training sessions held in June and July 2021 focusing on ISO auditing and quality management systems assessments for various industrial segments including shipping companies, maritime organisations, shipyards, ports & marinas, service suppliers and manufacturer facilities within the context of the broader marine industry. (i.e., ISO 9001, 14001, 17024). The dedicated training courses were designed to develop an in-depth understanding of various ISO standards, including the 9001:2015 quality management system standard, ISO 14001: 2015 for environmental management systems (EMS) and 45001:2018 Occupational Health & Safety Management System Certification.
3. Through high-profile synergies and collaborations with accredited certification bodies, the Surveyors' Network participants further specialized upon reporting on the effective implementation and maintenance of a quality management system in accordance with various ISO standards. Conducted in a workshop style and also via webinar, the various training courses course consisted of lectures, discussions, and case studies evaluation.

4. INTECA's Surveyors' Network members are specialists of proven professional and technical know-how and with extensive experience in the non-marine and marine industries, bringing a diverse and well-structured range of inspection expertise and dexterities to our services and future business activity domain.
